Safetor Product Reference

Technical Rigging Services NZ Ltd (TRS) has been using Safetor products for several years and would have no hesitation in recommending these anchors to the industry.

There is a wide variety and we have found them straight forward to install; with technical support always on hand from Safetor.

Approved installers are given full backup and after sale service with any customer enquires answered promptly.

We have on occasion, required modifications for special locations and have found Safetor to be adaptable, versatile and prompt with any modification requests. This is a huge advantage as overseas supplied products often come with one size fits all approach.

The anchors are packaged to ensure they are not damaged in transit and always look great when installed.

Safetor are always willing and able to help with anchor testing information and certification to satisfy all our clients requirements.
